ABOUT ME

What do you do in your free time?

In my free time, I enjoy reading books (especially thrillers) and experimenting in the kitchen through cooking and baking. I find that cooking and baking serve as great stress relievers for me, allowing me to unwind and express my creativity.

What is a fun fact about yourself?

I am a dentist by profession in India but decided to pursue Public Health as I am passionate about working for the community, which is why I moved to the US 2 years ago.

In my Fellowship position...

In my Fellowship position with the climate change public health team at the MCDPH, I engage in several key activities. I participate in the community climate change task force to provide a public health perspective and foster collaboration among community members, as well as state and local partners.

I am researching the specific needs of my community regarding the climate-related risks they face, as well as identifying available resources to address these challenges. My responsibilities also involve data assessment to support our initiatives. Additionally, I am focused on enhancing climate resilience education across various departments and working collaboratively with them. A significant aspect of my role includes identifying gaps within the community and developing effective solutions to address these issues.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

Being a NYSPHC Fellow aligns perfectly with my larger career goals by providing me with invaluable experience at the intersection of public health and climate change. This fellowship allows me to deepen my understanding of how environmental factors impact community health, which is crucial for my aspiration to work in public health policy and advocacy. Through this position, I am developing skills in research, collaboration, and data analysis, all of which are essential for crafting effective public health strategies. Additionally, engaging with community partners and stakeholders equips me with practical insights into the needs and challenges faced by vulnerable populations.

ABOUT ME

What do you do in your free time?

I enjoy reading, exploring new places (cafes, bubble tea shops, parks, museums), and playing tennis.

What is a fun fact about yourself?

I taught as a tennis instructor for three years!

In my Fellowship position...

I work as a member of the Prevention Agenda Team to provide support in the planning, implementation, monitoring, and evaluation process of the 2025-2030 New York State Prevention Agenda.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

Being a NYSPHC Fellow within the state health department has allowed me to meet a wide variety of stakeholders and play a role in the collaborative process of the Prevention Agenda/State Health Improvement Plan. As this encompasses several areas in public health and works to address the social determinants of health and health equity, being a public health fellow is supporting my larger career goals in working to reduce health disparities on a state/federal level.

ABOUT ME

What do you do in your free time?

In my free time I love to bake bread and play Baldur's Gate 3 with my partner.

What is a fun fact about yourself?

I love to make bread in my new terracotta oven, my current favorite recipe is jalapeno cheddar bread.

In my Fellowship position...

I work with the office to support rural communities through education, programming, and grant work.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

This fellowship is giving me the opportunity to work with underserved communities/populations on a larger scale before I apply to educational programs that work with these same populations but on the level of patient care.

ABOUT ME

What do you do in your free time?

I like to spend time outside, cook and try new foods, and find opportunities to travel.

What is a fun fact about yourself?

I am trying to cook with more beans and lentils – let me know if you have any good recipes!

In my Fellowship position...

My Fellowship is in policy development. Currently, I am researching policy related to sickle cell disease to support the Health Equity Council and I support the Racial Equity Working Group as it works to address racism as a public health crisis in the state. I also assist with other Office of Minority Health and Health Disparities Prevention legislative charges related to cultural, linguistic, racial and health equity by infusing and evaluating policies aligning with the Department's vision/mission for eliminating health disparities.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

I hope to use my time as a NYSPHC Fellow to continue learning about the broader themes of public health in practice and to hone my skills in the areas where I am most interested, particularly in working to address and prevent health disparities. I am also excited about connecting with public health professionals across the state, especially our cohort of NYSPHC Fellows.

ABOUT ME

What do you do in your free time?

Going for walks or hikes, reading thriller or horror books, baking cookies, being out in nature.

What is a fun fact about yourself?

I love open toasted grilled cheese - with cinnamon and sugar on top!

In my Fellowship position...

I assist in Public Health Education regarding topics such as youth vaping, opioid overdose education, emergency preparedness, sexual health, mental health, tick borne illness, etc. I attend many community events to represent PCDOH and its services/initiatives. I also assist the Epidemiologist in our Early Childhood Vaccination Intervention, which aims to work with healthcare providers in getting their 2-5 year old patients vaccinated. It's different every day. One day I could be packing for an event, another day I'm attending a meeting with partners on strategies to reduce overdoses. The next week I could be presenting to students about neuroplasticity or attending a training about social interventions through my Fellowship. That's why I love it- there's opportunity to do so much!

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

Being a NYSPHC Fellow has been a goal of mine since I was undergrad at UAlbany. They came to table at a job fair, and I fell in love with the idea of being a Fellow. The experience that the Fellowship offers is something I was looking for when I graduated, and I am very grateful to be able to serve my community and start off my public health career strong!

FOCUS AREAS

- Chronic Disease
- Environmental Health
- Communicable Disease
- Tuberculosis

ABOUT ME

What do you do in your free time?

Reading, trying new restaurants and exploring Long Island

In my Fellowship position...

In my Fellowship position, I focus on managing and raising awareness about tuberculosis (TB). I assist civil surgeons by helping link individuals to appropriate care and treatment, ensuring they receive the medical support they need. A key part of my role involves coordinating TB evaluations for immigration purposes, as required by law. I work closely with patients, educating them on TB transmission, prevention, and the importance of treatment adherence. Additionally, I help ensure that the community is well-informed about TB risks and resources. My work is primarily based in Suffolk County, under the Bureau of Chest Diseases. This position allows me to contribute to public health efforts in TB control and prevention, with a focus on connecting people to necessary services and improving health outcomes.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

Being a NYSPHC Fellow aligns perfectly with my long-term goal of making a meaningful impact on public health and helping the community. This fellowship provides me with hands-on experience in managing critical health issues like tuberculosis and connecting people to essential care. I'm able to directly contribute to improving health outcomes, which is central to my career aspirations. The skills and knowledge I'm gaining will support my future work in public health, allowing me to continue advocating for underserved populations. Ultimately, this experience is a stepping stone toward a lifelong commitment to improving community health.

ABOUT ME

What do you do in your free time?

After moving to Albany, I like to go on a lot of hikes and nature walks and take advantage of New York's environment and nice fall weather. However, I also love to ski and will start to visit the state's mountains and snow resorts more often when the winter season arrives!

What is a fun fact about yourself?

I spent a whole summer in Puerto Rico for an internship with the CDC working with their dengue surveillance system on the island! Also, I have went skiing at least once a year since learning in elementary school and have been loving it since!

In my Fellowship position...

I have been working in the Bureau of Cancer Epidemiology's Extramural Research Unit and their studies to reduce racial and ethnic disparities in cancer care and outcomes. Some of these duties include identifying and implementing strategies for improving community outreach and engagement in patient contact studies and contributing to research on cancer disparities through analyses of study and Registry data.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

The NYSPHC Fellowship has been beneficial in honing my skills and necessary knowledge needed to work in a research position in the epidemiology field. I hope to use these experiences of working in the New York State Department of Health in my future career endeavors of helping underserved communities throughout the country and eventually in a global health capacity.

ABOUT ME

What do you do in your free time?

When I have free time, I love hitting the gym for some weightlifting, going for a run, or taking a Pilates or spin class. I also enjoy relaxing with some Real Housewives and trying out new restaurants (or bars). I also shop a lot. I love clothes.

What is a fun fact about yourself?

I have a black belt in Tae Kwon Do.

In my Fellowship position...

In my Fellowship position, I manage programs aimed at addressing food insecurity among seniors and vulnerable populations in Nassau County, particularly in densely populated areas like Hempstead, Elmont, Baldwin, Roosevelt, and Uniondale. I conduct data analysis and metrics tracking for the Health Equity Resource Center to ensure our initiatives are effective and impactful. I also coordinate efforts with various interagency partners within the county to enhance our outreach and resource distribution. Additionally, I engage with organizations that align with our mission to strengthen our collective efforts in addressing these critical issues.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

Being a NYSPHC Fellow aligns perfectly with my larger career goals of becoming a director of public health programs and potentially pursuing a PhD in public health or a clinical terminal degree. This role allows me to explore systems and improve their efficiency, ensuring that vulnerable populations receive the resources they need most. The experience I've gained in program management is invaluable, as it provides me with the skills and knowledge that are often hard to come by early in one's career. Overall, this fellowship is an essential stepping stone toward achieving my aspirations in public health leadership.

ABOUT ME

What do you do in your free time?

I lift weights and run. I like theater and movies. I love to read and sew. I am a project hopper! I love to try to learn new skills or take up another hobby. Knitting is next on the list!

What is a fun fact about yourself?

I am working on deadlifting. My personal record is 120lbs.

In my Fellowship position...

I am working for a non-profit organization that focuses on helping pregnant people and parents with external and internal needs. We offer support groups, events like baby showers, and items for your child like car seats and diapers. The goal is to give support to help decrease stress and positively impact birth outcomes in infants, and better relationships between parents and their children.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

I see it as a great way to immerse myself deeper in my area of public health and other ones too. I would love to be able to network with others that are doing work similar to mine. I am also enjoying the learning experience. Seeing firsthand what others are accomplishing and working on is fascinating. I feel it can only help in my own career goals, as many fields intersect with each other.

What is a fun fact about yourself?

I did CrossFit 5 out of 7 days for the 42 weeks of my pregnancy OR that I fell asleep during my knee being tattooed! haha

In my Fellowship position...

I work on emergency preparedness/ response plans for Orange County. I help complete deliverables for NYS. I may act as a liaison for the health department when an emergency in the county happens and retrieve receive materials and help for those in need.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

I think being a NYSPHC Fellow fits in with my larger career goals because I want to work in emergency services, and I believe sometimes they forget that there is always a public health component to every emergency or disaster. I believe that when I am working in Emergency services, I will always remember to include public health.

ABOUT ME

In my Fellowship position...

In the Office of Health Education my role with the Health Education team at the Genesee and Orleans County Health Departments (GO Health), I collaborate closely with the mental health departments of both counties. My work focuses on addressing the impact of Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) within the community and supporting efforts to make the health departments and the Genesee, Orleans and Wyoming (GOW) region trauma-informed. Additionally, I help inform the public of the mental health resources that are available in the community.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

I was a part of Fellowship 1.0, which gave me the chance to explore various paths within the public health field. Through this experience, I've discovered a passion for mental health as well as a strong interest in public health education. The NYSPHC has been instrumental in helping me refine my career focus, and I am excited to continue working in these areas moving forward.

ABOUT ME

What do you do in your free time?

In my free time I enjoy trying new foods, making puzzles, going on road trips and attending local events.

What is a fun fact about yourself?

I can juggle!

In my Fellowship position...

I am working in the Environmental Health & Safety Division working with various datasets like individual sewage treatment systems, wells, public water systems and PFAS contaminated sites and mapping them. This allows us to run queries to answer questions like: how many public water systems are within 200 feet of a contaminated site? or how far is the nearest river or stream from the proposed septic system?

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

This Fellowship opportunity is allowing me to gain valuable work experience and further develop my skills in GIS mapping, data management and analysis. I am discovering all of what a local health department is responsible for and what programs are offered. I am excited to shadow sanitarians in the field and see the intersections between environmental science and public health. ABOUT ME

What do you do in your free time?

I love to cook, read, play with my cat, and explore new places with friends and family.

What is a fun fact about yourself?

One fun fact about me is that I recently started volunteering to phonebank and canvas for local politicians I believe in. I believe civic engagement and advocacy are incredibly important and relevant for anyone, but especially public health professionals.

In my Fellowship position...

My role involves analyzing quantitative and qualitative survey data from the county's Opioid Treatment Program (OTP) clinics in order to identify strengths, weaknesses, and potential inequities of the OTP clinics. I also assist with the creation, distribution, and analysis of an updated OTP clinic staff survey. Both of these projects are meant to inform choices made by the OTP's Continuous Quality Improvement (CQI) committee, which aims to improve care quality and health equity in order to meet standards set and recommendations made by the Joint Commission, the accrediting body for OTP programs across the country recognized by SAMHSA.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

The Fellowship program aligns well with my public health education. The experience of working for a county government agency will expand my real-world public health experience, making me more qualified for other public health roles in the future (especially in government). The data analysis and independent project management involved in my role is helping me grow into a more confident, proactive, and skilled public health leader and researcher. I am interested in pursuing a PhD in Public Health and then working in a leadership capacity in government or another public health entity focused on implementing best practices. Moreover, I believe the skills I'm learning will be very relevant to completing my PhD and subsequent career goals.

ABOUT ME

What do you do in your free time?

In my free time, I enjoy reading and baking. Reading allows me to unwind and explore a variety of topics, while baking gives me a creative outlet and a chance to experiment with new recipes. Both activities provide a nice balance to my busy schedule and allow me to relax and recharge.

What is a fun fact about yourself?

A fun fact about me is that my perfect day would involve a mix of all my favorite activities: starting with a delicious cup of coffee, followed by a trip to pick out new books. I'd spend some time on a craft project, enjoy some pizza, bake a batch of cookies, and then wind down by watching one of my favorite movies or TV shows. It's a perfect blend of creativity, comfort, and relaxation!

In my Fellowship position...

I work at the Arthropod-Borne Disease Laboratory, where I focus on educational outreach and surveillance efforts related to mosquito-borne and tick-borne diseases. My responsibilities include developing and delivering informative programs aimed at raising awareness about these public health threats. Additionally, I am involved in surveillance activities, which encompass the collection of specimens for pathogen testing and maintaining accurate, detailed records of the data gathered throughout the process.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

Being a NYSPHC Fellow at the Arthropod-Borne Disease Laboratory aligns perfectly with my long-term career goal of becoming an epidemiologist specializing in zoonotic-borne diseases. This Fellowship provides me with invaluable hands-on experience in the field of vector-borne disease surveillance and research, offering insight into the critical processes behind pathogen monitoring and outbreak prevention. By contributing to surveillance efforts and educational outreach, I am gaining a deeper understanding of the practical applications of epidemiology in zoonotic disease control. This experience is an essential step toward building a solid foundation for my future career and making meaningful contributions to public health.

In my Fellowship position...

In my fellowship position, I focus on promoting health equity, particularly for New American populations. This involves working on initiatives that address social determinants of health, ensuring that these communities have access to the health resources and services they need. My work includes community engagement, data collection, and analysis to identify disparities and barriers in healthcare, as well as collaborating with local health organizations to create and implement strategies aimed at improving health outcomes for underserved populations.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

This fellowship offers hands-on experience in promoting health equity, a key interest in my research and public health work. The focus on New American populations mirrors my broader aim of making a difference on a population level, especially for underserved groups. Additionally, this role allows me to apply my research skills and knowledge of global health in a local context, contributing to my long-term goals of addressing health disparities and influencing public health policy on both national and global stages. I love to spend time with my family. I am married and have 2 daughters. Our family loves to travel and go camping. Recently I have found some me time in practicing yoga.

What is a fun fact about yourself?

When my husband and I retire, we hope to manage a campground as a part of retirement. We are also looking for land to buy for a Christmas tree farm.

In my Fellowship position...

I have been working under the Public Health Division Department. Recently, I have attended PHAB meetings for reaccreditation purposes. The project that I am working towards is increasing Public Health Workers within the Department of Health. We are in the process of planning and developing workshops and training that gear towards public health skills and competencies. We are also looking to implement a Performance Evaluation System for employee performances.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

Eventually I would like to help bridge to gap of any resources within Cattaraugus County. My experiences working in the nonprofit world have created collaboration and partnerships that Cattaraugus County could value. I see myself being a liaison for all community members whether it be on community education, policy changes, and/or service program development.

ABOUT ME

What do you do in your free time?

I like to garden, listen to music, go on daily walks, and spend time with family.

What is a fun fact about yourself?

I can play two musical instruments!

In my Fellowship position...

I coordinate FLPHA (Finger Lakes Public Health Alliance) which is made up of emergency planners in eight Pivotal member counties whose goal is to collaborate, share ideas and best practices to strengthen emergency preparedness. I also work as a convener and network specialist attending ten substance use prevention and suicide prevention coalition meetings of Pivotal's member counties to share information about initiatives and create opportunities for potential collaboration. Additionally, I provide grant assistance data gathering and correlating LHD needs/priorities that would impact the work in member counties.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

ABOUT ME

What do you do in your free time?

When I finally get some free time, I'll let you know what I do with it!

What is a fun fact about yourself?

I am a Bill Gates Millennium Scholar - the first person in my city to ever receive the award. It afforded me the opportunity to do things I never imagined were possible for someone from my neighborhood. I was able to attend my dream school at NYU, study abroad (Italy and Spain), and meet Mariska Hargitay - the star of one of my favorite shows.

In my Fellowship position...

I am currently working on our Community Health Assessment, attending meetings for our local Homeless Coalition, and shadowing our various divisions/departments to understand everyone's role and how to improve their day-to-day functions. I would love to use this time to bring tech advancements to this department to remove unnecessary burdens on the staff and increase access for both staff and the community.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

I am a PhD student (All But Dissertation) and open to possibilities of careers in various sectors. Gaining experience in the public sector from a learning and career development standpoint is allowing me to gauge my interests and determine where I am most needed. ABOUT ME

What do you do in your free time?

I consider myself to be an artist so in my free time I like to engage in all sorts of creative pursuits. Depending on the day, I go in-between wanting to sketch, paint, craft, play music, do photography, etc., etc. So basically, anything that is inherently artistic is right up my alley!

What is a fun fact about yourself?

In the second grade, I convinced my parents to buy me a keyboard and through sheer will taught myself how to read piano keys and sheet music. Within the week, the very first song I managed to learn how to play was My Heart Will Go On by Celine Dion.

In my Fellowship position...

I work within the Center for Environmental Health, where I am a part of the New York State Wastewater Surveillance Network. I have had the opportunity to work closely with SARS-CoV-2 case data and wastewater surveillance data to inform regional epidemiological decisions.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

The NYSPHC Fellowship is a fantastic opportunity to bolster and widen your skills in public health professional practices. This experience has equipped me with a more comprehensive understanding of public health data management and collaboration in a multidisciplinary environment.

In my Fellowship position...

The Fellowship position within the Comprehensive Cancer Control Program at the New York State Department of Health Bureau of Cancer Prevention and Control offers a unique opportunity to support the New York State Cancer Consortium and the implementation of the New York State Cancer Plan. The fellow will play a vital role in facilitating community engagement efforts, emphasizing the importance of health equity to reduce the cancer burden in New York. By collaborating with Consortium member workgroups, the fellow will assist in developing strategies that empower community partners to effectively disseminate information and promote their initiatives, thereby establishing models for sustainable engagement practices across various organizations.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

As a NYSPHC Fellow, I see a significant opportunity to enhance my skills and advance my professional development in the public health field. This fellowship aligns perfectly with my larger career goals, particularly my commitment to addressing health disparities and promoting health equity. By engaging with the New York State Cancer Consortium and the implementation of the Cancer Plan, I will gain hands-on experience in community engagement, stakeholder collaboration, and program development—essential skills for a successful career in public health. Additionally, the Fellowship will allow me to deepen my understanding of the intricacies of cancer prevention and control while honing my ability to work with diverse communities and provides a unique platform for networking with experienced professionals in the field, allowing me to build relationships that can support my future endeavors.

Reading detective novels, small stream flyfishing, going for walks in the woods, trying to catch cool animals on trail cameras, playing soccer with my niece, exploring the east coast as a lifelong west coaster.

What is a fun fact about yourself?

I learned how to skateboard bowls and quarter pipes in my late 20s early 30s. I fell and hurt my aging body a lot in the process.

In my Fellowship position...

I've primarily been supporting the goals and objectives of the Tompkins County Mental Hygiene Local Services Plan, which include assessing the scope and impact of the behavioral health workforce shortage, facilitating the procurement process for substance use and mental health services and supports, and identifying evidence-based strategies to resolve gaps in service delivery. In my day-to-day, this has consisted of a lot of RFP development and contracting, literature review and quantitative and qualitative data collection and analysis, and collaborations with community service providers and stakeholders.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

My role at Tompkins County Whole Health has allowed me to engage in systems-level planning and coordination, contract management and program evaluation, and budgeting and financial assessment. ABOUT ME

What do you do in your free time?

I love to cook and travel the locally and nationally.

What is a fun fact about yourself?

I used to be an animal trainer at the Brooklyn Children's Museum.

In my Fellowship position...

As a New York State Public Health Corps (NYSPHC) Fellow at the Office of Gun Violence Prevention (OGVP), I play a key role in supporting the day-to-day operations of the office. My responsibilities include coordinating program activities with internal teams at OGVP, the New York State Department of Health (NYSDOH), and external partners. I assist in developing presentations for trainings and conferences, and representing OGVP in community meetings focused on gun violence, health equity, and social justice, reviewing contracts and other administrative duties. Additionally, I am learning more about data analysis and interpretation to assess the prevalence of gun violence in various jurisdictions, and I have experience reviewing abstracts for the American Public Health Association's (APHA) Epidemiology program.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

Being a NYSPHC Fellow at the Office of Gun Violence Prevention aligns closely with my larger career goals of becoming an epidemiologist focused on child health and safety. Through my Fellowship, I have gained invaluable experience analyzing and interpreting data on gun violence, a critical issue that directly impacts the well-being of children and communities. By coordinating program activities and collaborating with key stakeholders, I've developed a deeper understanding of how public health interventions can be used to prevent injuries and improve safety. These skills are essential for my future work in epidemiology, where I aim to integrate data-driven strategies with my passion for child health to create programs that protect and enhance the well-being of children, particularly in the area of injury prevention.

I work on finding new data for our Community Health Needs Assessment. I'm researching evidence-based practices for preventing and stopping vaping among young people. I work in community health and partners outreach.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

I'm hoping to further my career in public health, ideally analyzing data in the future. I'm interested in the role of data in developing policy and assessing programs.

ABOUT ME

What do you do in your free time?

I like to spend quality time with my friends, engage in self-care activities, and ride e-bikes around my neighborhood and local park(s). Also, I am actively pursuing a Master of Business Administration, so I am often completing homework and/or studying.

What is a fun fact about yourself?

I love tattoo artwork, fashion, and fantasy/action-centered anime, and one of my guilty pleasures is binge-watching reality TV shows like Love is Blind, Love Island, Selling Sunset, you name it.

In my Fellowship position...

- Assisting in the development and implementation of the budget, contracts, vouchers, work plans, and project deliverables.
- Managing fiscal, program, and evaluation activities for the Healthcare Workforce Hub, a web-based portal that links aspiring providers to organizations, agencies, resources, and information to pursue careers in the healthcare industry.
- Designing and implementing evaluation processes, including quality improvement, data collection, and performance measurement reporting.
- Creating training materials, resources, and tools for statewide reach and stakeholder satisfaction.
- Supervising student assistants, providing education, training, and resources to support them

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

As a Public Health Fellow III with an emphasis on Program and Organizational Management, I am continuously honing my project management, leadership, and decision-making skills to spearhead initiatives that will significantly impact marginalized communities. The work at my current site revolves around mitigating the healthcare workforce shortage, which I am passionate about, as I have personally been affected by this detriment within hospital and clinical settings. In the long term, I strive to become a Health Program Administrator or Consultant to improve the operational efficiencies of healthcare institutions.

ABOUT ME

What do you do in your free time?

Cooking, traveling with my husband, taking long walks, trying new coffee shops, cafes & restaurants.

What is a fun fact about yourself?

I used to be a cheerleader! I miss it.

In my Fellowship position...

I work in the office of community outreach at NCDOH. My team and I do outreach at CBO's, hospitals, community events, and schools. The main goal is to provide resources to the community on health-related areas, work on chronic disease prevention programs, research evidence-based practices and incorporate data in understanding public health disparities. I also attend the board of health meeting, have weekly meetings with my director and team, began my Cornell university public health essentials certificate program, and also work with my director for how to have smoking cessation programs and healthy nutrition and fitness programs in schools.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

I am currently pursuing a master's degree in healthcare administration, with concentrations in health informatics and operations management. My larger career goals include pursuing a doctorate in health informatics or health sciences. I have a clinical background, and now as a fellow I am being exposed to the various public health disparities, administrative issues in the public health and medicine sector, and most of all the vast pressing issues in communities. The social determinants of health, a topic in my degree, is an area that is the most prominent part of understanding how disparities impact a community, and (SDOH) is what NCDOH uses to highlight which disparities are most prevalent. Using epidemiological data, evidence-based research practices, visualizing and understanding data, will be most useful as a researcher or director of a program or specialty hospital. I am working towards becoming a healthcare data analyst, public health analyst and then working towards a director position. The experience I am gaining here is multi-faceted; I am learning how to apply research-based practices to practical methods, what types of resources the community needs, how to approach awareness of chronic diseases, and how to facilitate meetings with CBOs and hospitals.

Basketball, gym, hiking, reading.

What is a fun fact about yourself?

I am ambidextrous.

In my Fellowship position...

Support the planning and preparation for PHAB accreditation, including creating Power BI dashboards to monitor the progress of various projects, such as accreditation and CHIP/CHA. Develop standard operating procedures for programs led by the Westchester County Health Department. Assist with strategic initiatives by supporting implementation, tracking, and effective communication of the department's key projects. This role involves developing and maintaining data dashboards, data briefs, monitoring progress, and providing updates on public health projects to diverse audiences.

How does being a NYSPHC Fellow fit in with your larger career goals?

Being a NYSPHC Fellow allows me to work directly within the community, gaining practical experience in tackling real-world health issues, which is essential for a career in public health. Working alongside seasoned professionals and public health leaders provides mentorship and networking opportunities that are invaluable for advancing in the field.
